Organized Response Report

Organized responses represent 16 percent of the total responses received during the public comment period for the CEQ Review of NEPA (119 out of 739). Five or more responses, received separately but containing identical text, constitute an organized response campaign. Once an organized response campaign letter is identified, a “master” is entered into the database. All responses with matching text are then linked to this master within the database with a designated number. If a response does not contain all of the text presented in a given organized response, or if it includes additional text, it is entered as an individual letter. Identical responses from four or fewer respondents are also entered as individual letters.

Organized responses are identified with both a number and a name (usually a salutation or first line of text). The following table presents the total number received of each form and summarizes the concerns found therein.

Table E-1 Organized Response Campaigns

Form Number	Total Received	Description of Form
1	119	Suggests that the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) is one of the most important environmental laws. Submits an example of how NEPA should work, mentioning the environmental review undertaken by the Corps of Engineers of the King William Reservoir project proposed by Newport News, VA. Asserts that NEPA's environmental analysis and public participation process requirements are essential to protecting the environment and should not be weakened.
