RE: Federal Register July 9, 2002 (Volume 67, Number 131, pages 45510-45512) for Comments regarding NEPA submitted on or before August 23, 2002.

The Public-scoping process has been badly abused in the last eight years by Federal Agencies.

The sham you call 'public comment' has been deliberately derailed. Public input by way of extremely short and inadequate time for us 'citizens' to supply any reasonable comment clearly eliminates the citizen participation.

To further the sham there is inadequate notice of the scoping schemes. ("...Promulgating categorical exclusions, structure and documentation of environmental assessments and implementation practices..." Quoted from July 9, 2002 (Volume 67, Number 131, Notices page 45510-45512)

In addition to the short time frame scheme, are the improper siting locations for the public meetings. Is the case for the Endangered Fish: Humpback chub, pikeminnow, razorback sucker, boney tail chub, and the Endangered Southwestern Willow Flycatcher, Grizzly Bear and some other threatened and endangered species which include their restoration projects such as the Wolf Restoration. These species have a direct impact to the local human populations, which include several Indian Nations. There is a total deliberate silence and disregard of the interests of all these peoples. The clear intent of these actions by these agencies is to limit public comment to only those who favor the agency (ies) action and now you want to make it worse.

Why don't you do something unusual: Follow the Clear Intent of the Law. U.S.C. 44, Chapter 3506 (c) 2, Chapter 3507, NEPA Section 1500.1, NEPA 1501.7.

Where is the government to government relation required by law in respect to the American Indian Nations. Their Treaty, Tribal, cultural and religious rights are continued to be trespassed upon by federal agencies with regard to the violations of the American Indian Religious Freedom Act of 1978, the Archeological Protection Act of 1979, Executive Order No. 13084 of May 14, 1998 and Executive Order 13175 of November 6, 2000. Has our County Commissioners been notified of this true intent of NEPA Task Force? What was their response? Send me a copy of their response. I want a complete list of all the 'stake holders' for this process, environmental groups. I want a list of the Indian Tribes notified of this process. Consider this my Freedom of Information Request (FOIA) 5 U.S.C. § 552, with relation to all my questions in this letter.

The greatest sham is the determination of need. There have been many agenda programs foisted upon us unsuspecting naturalist citizens creating the impression that the need is overwhelming. For instance, the 'four endangered fish', which in years prior the U.S. Fish and Wildlife poisoned deliberately on account of their being classified as trash fish (review RIP-RAPP). These fish want to live in Mexico; they do not want to live here. To force them to live here under the terms and conditions of the RIP-RAPP is equivalent to building a tropical greenhouse at the North Pole to reestablish the Corals and other warm tropical animals to live in an artificial environment. The Canada lynx is another species these agencies have abused to further control the human environment.

Is this your living laboratory scheme?

Are we also looking at recovery for the 'wooly-mammoth' and the 'mastodon'?

I expect a timely reply sent to the address listed above.
